

FAMILY VIOLENCE SUPPORT SERVICES

Shell Energy is committed to assisting customers affected by family violence and who are finding it difficult to manage their energy usage bills.

We believe our customers have the right to expect and receive confidential and respectful conversations and be assured that all personal information will be kept confidential in line with relevant legislation. We encourage any small business customer having difficulty paying their electricity usage bills as a result of family violence to contact us to have a confidential conversation on ways in which we may assist them.

There are several organisations that specialise on working and supporting people experiencing family violence. Below are some organisations that offer support and counselling.

If you or someone you know needs support, you can contact one of the support services listed below.
